Our men's retreat weekend is January 31 - February 2, 2014. For more information please contact: Gerald Bricks at 335-8361, Ed Clark at 728-3606, Adrian Joy at 335-8336 and Robert Kurtz at 728-5704.

THANK YOU - Thank you to all who helped with this year's Wayland/Cohocton/Perkinsville Giving Tree. The generous spirit is evident in all the individuals, groups and businesses who purchased gifts and clothing and/or donated food. Your generosity provided a Merry Christmas to 36 families/ 90 children with food, gifts, clothing and hats and mittens. You also provided 6 Adults with food baskets.

Thank you to those who helped carry food and gifts out to cars. Thank you to Mike Gilman for sorting the food.

May the New Year bring to you the blessings you shared with others!

Connie & Debbie

Thank you all for so generously sharing Christmas with us. Christmas cards, gifts, baked goods and fruit baskets were plentiful. Thank you also to those who invited us into your homes to share a delicious Christmas dinner with you and your families. Please know that Fr. Mike and I are truly grateful for your friendship and hospitality.

Happy New Year to you all!

Fr. Stephen & Fr. Mike

THANK YOU - To all of the amazing people associated with and working through Operation Santa and the Giving Trees in Cohocton, Thank You!

This Holiday season was especially wonderful for 162 children – 54 families and 6 senior citizens because of you! The Organizations, Clubs, Churches, Businesses, Students, Families and Community Members that all pulled together to help deserves a huge Thank You. Through your help Operation Santa was able to give families a food box and each child gifts of clothing, toys and hats and mittens/gloves. Every gift was appreciated. The amount of work, heart, and dedication the people of our communities put into helping everyone have a magical and happy Holiday is phenomenal and heroic. This community serves as a real Santa Claus making a difference in the lives of many families. Through your gift of toys, clothing, food, mittens and/or money we were able to make the Holidays a bit more Cheerful.

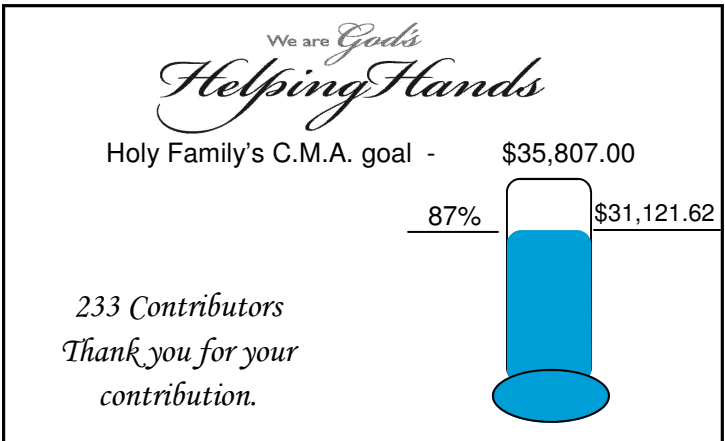

Thank you to everyone for your help.

MARGIE

Questions Catholics ask*WHAT IS THE CHURCH CALENDAR?

CHRISTIANITY, with its roots in Jewish thought and practice, adopted its sense of the sacred character of time from Israelite history. Jesus grounded the meaning of the first Eucharistic ritual in the liberation event of Passover; as a result the celebration of Easter is configured each year with the Jewish Passover, and the entire liturgical year conforms backwards and forwards from that date. The need to embrace the sacred character of all of life's seasons, both tearful and joyful, remains evident in the longing of Advent, the penitential nature of Lent, and the alleluias of Easter.

The church continues to acknowledge divine victories won over sin and death in both the Incarnation and the Paschal mysteries celebrated at Christmas and Easter. It honors the harvest of the church reaped at Pentecost and the long season dedicated to growth—both seen and unseen—in Ordinary Time.

Today's religious calendar assists in harnessing time and organizing it for optimal use. Liturgical cycles help us remember our story and the identity we bear as heirs to this history. It acknowledges the sacred character of time in witnessing to the goodness and faithfulness of God. Most of all it reminds us of the many reasons we have to give thanks.

WHY MUST GODPARENTS get a certificate from their parish to be godparents but a best man or maid of honor do not? Don't they have the same sacramental obligations? The short answer is no. Both are important participants in the sacrament, but they serve different purposes and functions. In baptism, godparents or sponsors are those who present someone to the church for baptism. Their role is to help the person being baptized to develop his or her understanding and practice of the faith. They do so by their own example of faith, as well as by answering questions and helping the newly baptized become an active member of the community of the church. In the case of an infant, they assist the parents in whatever way possible to raise the child in faith. Most importantly, godparents and sponsors should pray for the newly baptized often, supporting them by their prayers. Therefore at least one godparent or sponsor must be Catholic. The other godparent can be a baptized non-Catholic and is called a Christian witness.

Witnesses to marriage do not have a spiritual obligation. Their purpose is more of a legal function. They, like the priest or deacon, are witnesses to the vows exchanged. Therefore there are no requirements concerning religion. This obviously does not prohibit the best man and maid of honor from spiritually supporting a newly married couple, but the church does not require anything more than meeting the eligibility requirements of age.
