Questions Catholics askWHAT DOES THE OLD TESTAMENT HAVE TO DO WITH THE NEW?

THE OLD TESTAMENT, or Hebrew scriptures, can be viewed as the spiritual history of the human race. After the first 10 chapters of the Book of Genesis, this history focuses specifically on one community, the people Israel.

The New Testament, or Christian scriptures, can't be appreciated apart from this earlier saga. Perhaps the most compelling illustration of how the Testaments fit together is the relationship between the Creation story in Genesis and the opening of the Gospel of John. "In the beginning . . . God created the heavens and the earth," Genesis intones. "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God," John declares.

In both of these beginnings a world springs to life as a result of the Divine Word. In each instance God's Word assumes material form and roams about. In Genesis the glorious beginning winds up in tragic defeat as humanity falls into sin and becomes vulnerable to suffering and death. In John the rather humble beginnings of God's-Word-among-us lead to triumphant reversals: Sin is defeated and death loses its sting in redemption.
