Bishop Pates, Chairman of the Committee of International Justice and Peace of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, has requested that parishes throughout the USA join in prayer for the people of Iraq. The following prayer was written by the Chaldean Catholic patriarch of Iraq. His Beatitude Louis Rafael Sako:

"Lord, the plight of our country is deep and the suffering of Christians is severe and frightening. Therefore, we ask you Lord to spare our lives, and to grant us patience and courage to continue our witness of Christian values with trust and hope. Lord, peace is the foundation of life; grant us the peace and stability that will enable us to live with each other without fear and anxiety, and with dignity and joy. Glory be to you forever."

PARISH OUTREACH FOR LOCAL NEEDS

One way our parish helps local families is through the St. Vincent de Paul Society

Week of August 3rd

- Wayland - 1 - transportation
- Dansville - 2 - utilities

We are fortunate to have 4 churches rich in history and unique in character. How much do we know about each of our churches? Every other week I will try to offer a question and/or fact about one of our four communities. This week's question: Which church is this and what significant event occurred here on January 15, 1918?

MINISTRIES - Thank you to the many people who help minister at the various Masses each weekend, your service is greatly appreciated. While we have dedicated volunteers, there is always a need for more help. If you would like to participate but are unsure of what to do, please call the parish office at 728-2228. Thank you.

 * HOMEBOUND/INFIRMED - If you know of someone * * who has recently become home bound, in the nursing * * home or in the hospital, please call the 335-2700, the *
 * priests would be glad to visit them. You can also call *
 * the parish office, 728-2228. This will help us update *
 * our contact list. *

TWENTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

To learn is human

If you come to know Jesus primarily as divine and don't make room for his humanity—both of which are fully in him—you might not think of him as needing to learn, to mature, to change, to grow. But someone had to teach him to read, to pray, to handle tools. For example the story in which Jesus at first rejects and insults a "foreign" woman who asks for help is startling; it is not like him. Yet because of her persistence and patience with him, Jesus is moved. He learns to expand his mission beyond the chosen people. If even Jesus reversed an old cultural prejudice, can't you?

INVEST JUST FIVE MINUTES A DAY, AND YOUR FAITH WILL DEEPEN AND GROW—A DAY AT A TIME.

Sunday, August 17, 2014 Twentieth Sunday in Ordinary Time To learn is human

If you come to know Jesus primarily as divine and don't make room for his humanity—both of which are fully in him—you might not think of him as needing to learn, to mature, to change, to grow. But someone had to teach him to read, to pray, to handle tools. For example the story in which Jesus at first rejects and insults a “foreign” woman who asks for help is startling; it is not like him. Yet because of her persistence and patience with him, Jesus is moved. He learns to expand his mission beyond the chosen people. If even Jesus reversed an old cultural prejudice, can't you?

Today's readings: Isaiah 56:1, 6-7; Romans 11:13-15, 29-32; Matthew 15:21-28 (118).

“O woman, great is your faith!”

Monday, August 18 A popsicle stick birdhouse and five winter coats

Here's a spiritual exercise that never fails to make you think: Consider how long it will take your survivors to clean out your closets, basement, attic, and garage. If you've done it for other people, you know human beings hang onto the darnedest things. Sometimes it's for sentimental reasons and other times for no reason at all. There can be misery in giving up stuff you own, but there's misery in holding on with both hands, too. Someone may be waiting to own those extra coats—but maybe not the birdhouse made of popsicle sticks. Today's readings: Ezekiel 24:15-24; Matthew 19:16-22 (419).

“When the young man heard this statement, he went away sad, for he had many possessions.”

Tuesday, August 19 Memorial of John Eudes, priest Be his body

Jesus revealed God so completely that he is God. That's the amazing thing about the Incarnation: God, about as above human beings as you can get, became one. But the wonder doesn't stop there. The Incarnation goes on in Christ's presence in those who believe in him. You, a follower of Jesus, give body to him in the world. That was the same thing the preacher, confessor, and church reformer Saint John Eudes recognized in the 17th century: “The Christian life is the continuation and completion of the life of Christ in us.” Today's readings: Ezekiel 28:1-10; Matthew 19:23-30 (420).

“For God all things are possible.”

Wednesday, August 20 Memorial of Bernard, abbot, Doctor of the church Superachievers need a super prayer life

Saint Bernard of Clairvaux was the original multitasking highachiever: adviser to popes, crusader, healer of a schism, monastic reformer, scripture scholar, preacher—the list goes on. Yet he also managed to devote many hours to prayer and contemplation because this was the source of his inspiration and energy. He added to that a strong devotion to the Virgin Mary. If you find yourself lacking inspiration or energy, remember Bernard and adopt his practices. Today's readings:

Ezekiel 34:1-11; Matthew 20:1-16 (421). “Are you envious because I am generous?”

Thursday, August 21 Memorial of Pius X, pope Commune more often

Because he was the first pope to live in the modern age of technology, we know more about Pope Saint Pius X than many others. His life and ministry make a fascinating story, but today remember him as a leader who stressed simplicity and poverty. “I was born poor, I lived poor, and I shall die poor.” He is likewise remembered as the pope who encouraged frequent Communion rather than once or twice a year as was common. His change in practice also encouraged frequent celebration of the sacrament of Penance in preparation for receiving the Eucharist. Participate in these sacraments together soon. Today's readings: Ezekiel 36:23-28; Matthew 22:1-14 (422).

“The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a king who gave a wedding feast.”

Friday, August 22 Memorial of the Queenship of the Blessed Virgin Mary Hold your serve

A classic “Mary prayer,” the Rosary has as its focus Jesus, not Mary. Even Mary's many titles point not to her but to a life lived around God. The Queenship of Mary, for example, is not about royalty or power but a “service of love,” said Pope Benedict XVI in 2012. Mary, he said, “is the queen of love, who lives out her gift of self to God” as a way to help people on the path of salvation. What might your crowning achievement of service be this day?

Today's readings: Ezekiel 37:1-14; Matthew 22:34-40 (423).

“You shall love your neighbor as yourself.”

Saturday, August 23 Memorial of Rose of Lima, virgin Beauty is only skin deep Saint Rose of Lima, the patroness of Latin America and the Philippines, was called Rose because she was beautiful (her real name was Isabel). Because she was afraid her beauty would interfere with her devotion to Christ, she was troubled by it and the attention it commanded. She defied her parents' wishes and refused to marry, and she suffered loneliness as a result of the opposition she faced and the solitude she chose. Her life is a reminder that fixation on appearance is a superficial distraction that harms both the admirer and the one objectified.

Today's readings: Ezekiel 43:1-7a; Matthew 23:1-12 (424).

“Whoever exalts himself will be humbled; but whoever humbles himself will be exalted.”
