QUESTIONS CATHOLICS ASKCHURCH SERVICE

THE YEAR 2012 marks the 50th anniversary of the beginning of the Second Vatican Ecumenical Council. The anniversary is a good opportunity to go back and read the actual council documents, one of the lesser-known of which was Pope John XXIII's opening address to the assembled bishops.

The speech came at the end of the four-hour opening session and was in Latin—more Latin than most of the bishops, 2,860 of them, the largest meeting of bishops in history, had heard at once in a long time—but it was, as it is now, an extraordinary document, and it resonates with this weekend's readings about engaging and serving the world.

In it Pope John outlined his vision for the council and also for the church as a whole. We're not here to rewrite doctrine but to defend it, the pope said—but defend it in such a way that it "may influence the numerous fields of human activity," which had changed so much. The church "must ever look to the present, to the new conditions and new forms of life introduced into the modern world." The ways of the modern world were not threats to be condemned but opportunities to evangelize.

Holy Family Retreat Prayer

Faithful God,
You walk with us on life's journey
and give us each day
all that we need – and even more.

Eager to share your life with us
ever more fully,
You invite us to gather
with our parish family
for a few days of reflection and prayer.

Deepen our hope and trust in You,
that we may commit ourselves anew
to being a community of lively faith,
who witness to your great love
in joyful service to others.

We ask this through Jesus Christ,
our Risen Lord,
whose grace and mercy
surround us all the days of our life.
Amen.

RESPECT LIFE: Children and Families in Poverty

Thank you to those who have signed the letter from the Public Policy Committee of the Diocese of Rochester and to those who will sign. We are calling on Governor Cuomo and the leaders of the Assembly and Senate to invest an additional $172 million in child care funding in the 2016-2017 State Budget. This will help low-income working parents find quality child care for 13,000 children. When this becomes a reality, these children, their parents, the employers, and all of us in New York State will benefit.
